Miss Jessie Finks Walhaven Becomes Bride of Courtney Summerville Welton, Ceremony Taking Place at Warrenton—Personal Mention.

One of the most important society events of yesterday, of wide interest throughout the South, was the marriage in Petersburg of Miss Donald Claiborne, daughter of the late Dr. John Herbert Claiborne and Mrs. Claiborne, to Stephen W. Holden, son of Mrs. Randall Holden, also of Petersburg. The ceremony took place at 3:30 o'clock in the old Tabb Street Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Charles Striding officiating, and the historic edifice was thronged with distinguished guests for the event. The church was decorated with palms, ferns and Southern plants, and the altar was adorned with pink sweetpeas made an effective background for the wedding party.

The bride entered with her brother, Robert W. Claiborne, who gave her away, and they were met at the church by the groom and his brother, Tom Holden, of Blackstone, who acted as best man. The bride's wedding dress was fashioned of heavy white satin trimmed with the duchesse and rose point lace used on the wedding gown of her mother and grandmother. Her long tulle veil fell to the end of her train and was fastened with orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a rope of pearls, a family heirloom, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Catharine Mann was maid of honor. She wore a gown of pale green tulle trimmed in real lace, and carried white hydrangeas showered on white tulle. The bridesmaids included Misses Lucile Paxton, of Washington; Frances Thompson, of Norfolk; Leslie Booth, of Petersburg; and Marion Johnson, of Hampton. Their costumes were fascinating affairs of white tulle with green and caught up with French pink ribbons. The brides were of tulle with wide sleeves of illusion and they carried pink hydrangeas showered on pink tulle. The groomsmen were S. Daley Craig, of Mason Hill; George Bernard Howell, of Cooper; Henry Galusha and John Watson, uncle of the bride.

A reception at the home of the bride's mother for relatives and a few intimate friends followed the ceremony at the church. The drawing rooms were arranged with Sweetheart roses and sweetpeas, against Southern plants and palms, and the table in the dining room was set with pink blossoms and shaded lights. Mr. and Mrs. Holden left later for a honeymoon through the West. Some of the guests from a distance attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lightfoot, of Atlanta; Mr. H. H. Scott, of New York City; Mrs. English, of Leesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Holden, of Blackstone; Mr. and Mrs. C. H.
